Ford's plan: 12% income-tax rebate, higher gas prices

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Ford proposed Monday night a 12 per cent rebate on taxes owed on last year's earnings and sharply increased taxes and tariffs to discourage the consumption of fuel.

Ford addressed the American people from the White House for the first time to outline his revised program to combat recession, inflation and a costly dependence on foreign oil.

At the heart of his plan is a $16 billion tax cut — with three-quarters going to individuals and families in the form of a cash rebate of 12 per cent on taxes on 1974 earnings, with a maximum of $1,000 per tax return. The other $4 billion would go to businesses and farms which modernize or expand.

Administration officials said the President's fuel proposals would add about 7 cents to the price of a gallon of gasoline and would make home fuel oil and natural gas more costly too.

When he goes before Congress Wednesday afternoon with his first State of the Union address, Ford is expected to outline further tax cut plans to reduce withholding on current holdings. He is reported to have decided on recommending a $15 billion cut on 1975 taxes.

Ford called for a year's ban on new federal spending programs, an increase in Social Security payments of only 5 per cent — less than half of what recipients would otherwise receive — and a 5 per cent ceiling on federal pay increases.

Taxpayers who insulate their homes would be entitled under Ford's plan to a tax credit of $150. A credit is an amount subtracted from taxes owed.

The President said immediate action is needed to solve America's problems.

"We are in trouble," he said, "But we are not on the brink of another Great Depression."

"We must wage a simultaneous three front campaign against recession, inflation, and energy dependence. We have no choice."

"Right now the going is rough and it may get rougher. But if we do what must be done, we will be well on our way to better days."

Ford said he would ask Congress to relax auto pollution standards to improve gas mileage, impose about $30 billion in taxes on all petroleum and natural gas, and tax the windfall profits of the big oil companies.

He said using existing authority he will impose a $3 a barrel tariff on 6.5 million barrels of oil the country imports every day.

Ford called for these measures:

- An immediate federal income tax cut of $16 billion. Of this, $12 billion will be cut from individual income tax bills on earnings of 1974 in the form of a cash rebate of 12 per cent of taxes due — up to a limit of $1,000 per family. Ford said that if Congress acts by April 1, "you will get your first paycheck for half the rebate in May and the rest in September."

- Using emergency powers under a 1962 law an increase through executive authority in the tariff on each barrel of imported crude oil. The increase would be $1 in February, $2 in March and $3 in April.

- A "more comprehensive program of energy conservation taxes on oil and natural gas" to cut consumption. The revenue from this would yield about $30 billion a year and would be fed back into the economy "in the form of additional payments and credits to individuals, business and state and local government." Cash payments would go "to those who pay no income taxes because of low earnings. They are the hardest hit by inflation and higher energy costs."

- Allocation of oil "to avoid undue hardships in any one geographic area, (Continued on Page 3)

Village seeks 2 townships' help on road project

Buffalo Grove officials are going to ask Long Grove and Vernon Township officials to help pay for an estimated $35,000 in improvements on Arlington Heights Road.

The project is part of a larger undertaking by the Lake County and state highway departments to improve Ill. Rte. 83 between Ill. Rte. 53 in Long Grove and Arlington Heights Road.

Rte. 83 is to be widened from two to four lanes and repairs are scheduled for the Rte. 53 intersection in an effort to cut down the number of traffic accidents.

AT A MEETING Monday, Buffalo Grove trustees were asked to approve $35,000 in motor fuel tax funds to improve a 700-foot section north of Arlington Heights Road to Mayflower Drive.

Board members decided to defer action, however, until a request could be made of Long Grove and Vernon Township officials to help finance improvements because part of the road lies within their boundaries. Village Mgr. Daniel Larson said they would be asked to contribute a total of about $8,000.

Larson said Buffalo Grove wants to improve the chunk of Arlington Heights Road because part of the land surrounding it lies within Buffalo Grove and will probably be developed in the next few years.

Work will be done by the Lake County Highway Dept., which is already scheduled to widen a portion of the Rte. 83-Arlington Heights Road intersection later this year. Traffic lights also will be installed.

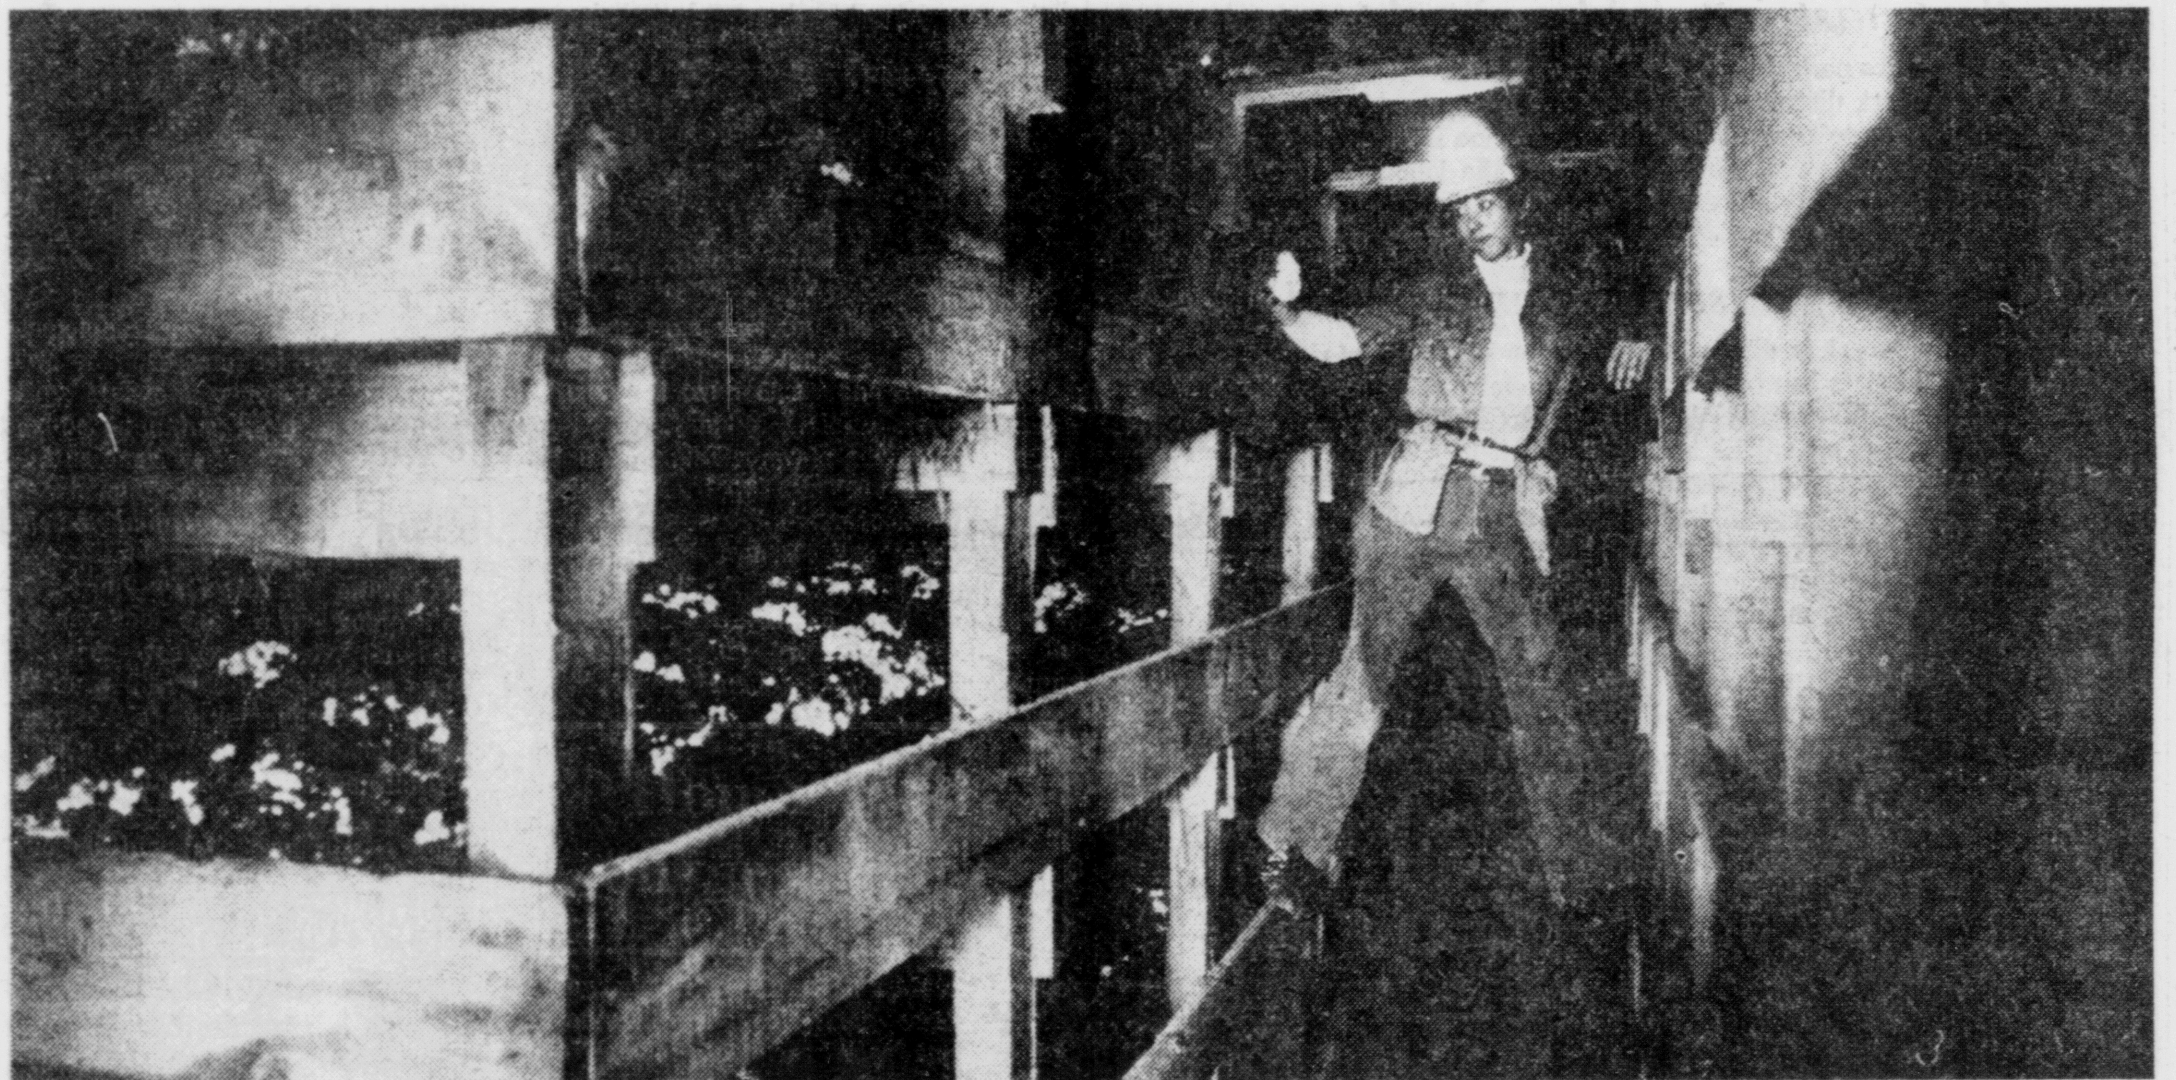

LARSON SAID HE did not believe there is any way Long Grove and Vernon Township can be legally made to contribute, but Village Atty. Richard Raysa said Buffalo Grove funds could not be appro-riated for road improvements in Long Grove.

In other action Monday, the board unanimously adopted a resolution objecting to a proposed auto scavenger yard on a 2.5-acre site near Weiland and Aptakisic roads in Lake County. The county zoning board of appeals recommended rezoning of the property last month.

The site is not in Buffalo Grove but lies within its planning area and officials are concerned about flooding and traffic problems they say the facility would cause.

Officials also objected to conflicts with the village's master plan and said the developer has made inadequate provisions for controlling noise and chemical spills.

Low unemployment makes U.S. funds for village doubtful: Larson

by JOHN MAES

Buffalo Grove Village Mgr. Daniel Larson said Monday he is doubtful the village will qualify for federal emergency employment funding largely because of the village's low unemployment rate.

"This program seems to be geared toward those communities with high rates of unemployment and it doesn't seem that Buffalo Grove would benefit the greatest," he said.

Some $3.5 billion was recently made available to counties and municipalities interested in starting employment programs to check rising unemployment rates.

THE FUNDING IS being distributed under the 1974 Emergency Job Act.

Federal plans call for creation of 100,000 public service jobs nationwide with funds going to municipal governments with more than 50,000 population.

When the funds were released last week, Larson said he was hopeful Buffalo Grove might qualify for enough to hire five or six persons to work on the village golf course, in the public works department or other projects such as removing debris along Buffalo Creek. Buffalo Grove would need about $40,000 to cover annual wages and fringe benefits for the employees.

Larson said he became doubtful that the village could obtain a share, however, when he learned most of the grants were being awarded on a priority basis to towns with jobless rates in excess of 6.5 per cent.

"It's been indicated that most of the purpose of the funds is to relieve chronic areas of unemployment," he said.

HE SAID Buffalo Grove officials did not even inquire into the possibilities of a share of Lake County's grant of some $500,000, saying most of those funds would be channeled to Waukegan and North Chicago, where unemployment rates are highest.

Larson estimated Buffalo Grove's current jobless rate at less than 3 per cent.

Joseph Monaghan, director of the Cook County Office of Manpower Services, said Monday most of the Cook County grants are going to suburbs in the south and southwest portions of the county with high unemployment figures.

He said Buffalo Grove might still be eligible for some subsidies if the U.S. Dept. of Labor allocates additional monies, probably later this month. "The Department of Labor is not yet certain on the final level of funding," he said.

Monaghan said allocations to Buffalo Grove and other communities that have filed letters of intent to participate in the program would be considered when additional funds are released.

"I DON'T KNOW where Buffalo Grove fits in at this time," he said. "If the federal government comes through with further funding, we'd go back to the villages because they've shown interest and they would get some funding." He was unable

Chicago sees red over right-turn law

The motorist's privilege of making a right turn on red may be taken away as a groundswell of opposition from Chicago threatens to overshadow the regulation's acceptance in the suburbs and throughout Illinois. After only one year of new driving freedom, drivers may be told to revert to their old traffic habits.

"We've heard rumblings that the law may be repealed," says Matthew C. Sielski, vice president of safety and traffic for the Chicago Motor Club. "But it's probably too early. The legislators are too worried about picking a speaker of the House."

The rumblings are coming mainly from Chicago. Outside the city limits the right turn on red concept has been well received.

CHICAGO OPPOSITION has been mounting. Since its inception last Jan. 1, pressure has been applied to the new franchise, resulting in more restrictions.

For example: while 6 per cent of Chicago's 2,400 intersections with stoplights had "no turn on red" signs posted last January, 12 months later the total rose to 12 per cent, Richard Walons, associate city traffic engineer, says.

At the same time, a slight increase in the posting of the prohibitive signs has been reported in the Northwest suburbs. One state highway official says about 3 per cent of the suburban intersections specifically outlaw right turns on red. "We've put up more than we've taken down," he says. Another official estimates that about 5 per cent of the intersections have the signs.

Even if the anti-turn movement doesn't gain enough support to topple the law, look for further restrictions, mostly in the city, Sielski says. "It's a very workable regulation," he says, "provided the law is followed."

THAT IS THE main objection to the right-turn permissibility, Sielski says. There is a feeling, he says, not yet affirmed by statistics, that motorists are not allowing pedestrians the right-of-way: that motorists are cutting in front of other motorists coming from a different direction but who have a green light, and that motorists are intimidating other motorists by honking at them until they finally make the turn, sometimes dangerously.

The right-turn regulation has had its share of pluses, when drivers obey the law. Early indications show the accident rate has been reduced (one fatality due to the right turn law was reported in Chicago last year) and there has been a savings in fuel consumption.

Right-turn rules are simple. The law, patterned after similar bills in California and other states, allows a motorist to turn right at a red light provided he comes to a full stop at the intersection. Also, it is legal to make a left turn at a red light if the motorist is on a one-way street turning onto another one-way street.

Peskin lawyer goes to appeals court

Convicted attorney Bernard M. Peskin refused to take the stand at his bribery trial last year because he did not want to answer questions by federal prosecutors about a bribe paid to a Metropolitan Sanitary District official, Peskin's attorney said Monday. The statement came during arguments before a three-judge U.S. Appeals Court panel hearing Peskin's request for a reversal, or mistrial. He was found guilty of passing bribes from a developer to six Hoffman Estates officials in 1968.

Scanlon denies he's resigning

Wheeling Village Pres. Ted C. Scanlon publicly denied reports Monday night that he is planning to resign. "I have no intention of ever resigning," Scanlon said. "If it is the will of God I will be in this position until 1977." Scanlon was responding to a Herald article last week that quoted a village trustee as saying a group of Wheeling political figures were trying to engineer the resignation of Scanlon and the appointment of Trustee William Hein as his successor. "There has been no deal made and I will stay on as village president," Scanlon said.

30,000 electrical users lose power

A switch failure cut off power to 30,000 Commonwealth Edison customers Monday afternoon in Hoffman Estates, Schaumburg and parts of Rolling Meadows and Palatine. Jack Stephens, an Edison spokesman, said an automatic switching device "shattered, but we don't know why it did." A backup system was put into use to restore power, while major stores at the Woodfield Shopping Center used their own emergency lighting systems.

Textbook fees going up

Textbook rental fees at High School Dist. 214 will be raised to a maximum of $15 in the 1975-76 school year. The board of education Monday night agreed to increase the present $12 rental fee to "as high as $15 per year." The board also adopted a policy calling for "separate but equal" boys' and girls' athletic programs. The policy is similar to one recently adopted in High School Dist. 211, with the philosophy that "equal" opportunity means "comparable" opportunity, not "identical" opportunity for girls and boys.

Park districts lobby sought

Elk Grove park officials are hoping to draw representatives of area park districts to a meeting next month to organize a lobby group to push for more park revenue legislation. Park Board Pres. Lew Smith said he hopes the lobby group will give park districts more leverage in state and national legislation affecting parks.

Wheeling district plan revived

The proposal to divide the Village of Wheeling into aldermanic districts has been revived. A member of the Wheeling Community Party said Monday the party will work actively in the upcoming village board campaign to split the village into districts. John Koeppen, a Community Party candidate, who made the proposal last October, said it would give residents better representation than they now have with at-large elections. Opponents to the system say it would create sectional rivalries, making it difficult for village government to function.

Village OKs furnace inspections

Elk Grove Village officials gave limited approval Monday to a furnace inspection program started by the Centex Homes Corp. in houses with suspected furnace defects. The move also is viewed as an effort by both sides to end a dispute over whether the village can accompany private inspectors on inspections of an estimated 1,700 homes believed to have defective furnaces. The builder had refused to allow the village to take part in the program. "The review of the inspection procedure is a start of cooperation between the department and the builder and is encouraging," said Building Comr. Thomas Rettenbacher.

2 on RTA oppose C&NW fare hike

by STEVE FORSYTH

Two Regional Transportation Authority board members have jeopardized a proposed 7 per cent commuter-fare hike for the Chicago and North Western Ry. by filing objections to the increase.

Board members D. Daniel Baldino, Evanston, and Nicholas Bosen, Chicago, surprised C&NW officials by appearing at an Illinois Commerce Commission hearing Monday to object to the proposed increase. Their objections may ensure that the increase is not approved.

"We are opposed to the C&NW request for a commuter-fare increase specifically, and to all fare increases for commuter railroads, suburban bus companies and the Chicago Transit Authority," Baldino said. He added that the RTA board is attempting to stabilize the transit situation in the Chicago area and assume controls now held by the ICC.

Baldino said he represented all four suburban RTA board members, and Bosen said his views were reflected by Milton Pikarsky, chairman-elect of the RTA board.

BALDINO SAID recent selection of a board chairman will allow the RTA board to begin making general, instead of emergency, operating grants. He promised that any C&NW application would receive immediate attention, and told railroad officials, "Given the validity of the financial information, I would have no difficulty approving a grant if it would prevent a fare increase."

The rate hike was requested for Jan. 1, but the Illinois Commerce Commission has deferred action until April 30. Monday's session was the third before hearing examiner Mark Goldstein.

The RTA board members' objections were added to a list of objectors, including the Village of Arlington Heights, the City of West Chicago and the Greater North Michigan Avenue Assn.

Railroad officials said this is the first time municipalities have objected since a series of rate hikes began in 1968. Regarding the RTA objections, James Macdonald, C&NW director of public relations, said, "This came as a complete surprise to us."

The C&NW wants the rate hike to cover increased diesel fuel and labor costs. As the last profitable commuter railroad in the nation, "We just don't want to see this service go into the red," Macdonald said. "These guys are just damn proud of it."

STATE REP. CALVIN Skinner, R-Crystal Lake, who also objects to the hike, had written letters to the RTA board members asking them to oppose the fare increase until the board establishes its own financial-assistance plan. He contends that the railroad will have to lose money to qualify for subsidies.

Baldino said Monday that emergency grants have been approved for two railroads, and three others are pending. He said purchase of service agreements, which will be contracts for service with the railroads, may be started as soon as July 1.

The agreements will allow for a "reasonable return" on investments for the railroads, and there are indications the C&NW will make more profit under the agreements than the 2 to 4 per cent it has made in recent years. Standard rates for utilities range from 8 to 10 per cent, and that could be applied to the railroads.

A denial of the fare increase could mean only a few months of operation at present rates before the agreements with the RTA would boost profits — if the

Sharp drop seen in C&NW income

A sharp downturn in net income for 1974 is indicated in a recent report by Chicago and North Western Transportation Co.

The employee-owned railway company estimates that preliminary and unaudited net income from freight and passenger operations for the year will amount to $12 million, or $2.70 a share, on total operating revenues of approximately $485 million. Income before taxes is expected to amount to $16 million.

In 1973, net income was $18,095,000, or $4.14 a share, on total operating revenues of $416,625,000. Income before income taxes in 1973 was $26,020,000.

Preliminary figures for the fourth quarter of 1974 based on total operating revenues of $123,500,000 indicate slightly better than break-even operations, reflecting continued high levels of maintenance activity, substantially higher costs for most items purchased, the current recession in business activity, reduced grain shipments and the coal strike. In the fourth quarter of 1973, net income was $3,584,000, or 82 cents per share, on total operating revenues of $109,288,000. Income before taxes in the fourth quarter of 1973 was $3,709,000.

agreements can be drawn up without long delays.

Baldino told Goldstein that the C&NW isn't the only area of concern of the RTA. "We hope that your commission will deny all fare increase requests to enable RTA mechanisms to deal with this problem," he said.

2 suburban Dems swing to Redmond

by BOB LAHEY

Two Northwest suburban Democrats added their votes to the effort Monday to elect Rep. William A. Redmond of Bensenville as speaker of the Illinois House of Representatives.

Redmond, through 76 ballots prior to adjournment last night, remained 8 votes shy of the needed majority of 89. Former Democratic leader Rep. Clyde Choate of Anna held 15 votes.

Rep. Aaron Jaffe, D-Skokie, switched his vote from Choate to Redmond on the 65th ballot, the first taken Monday after a weekend recess. Jaffe has been identified with the Democratic Study Group, an independent coalition made up mostly of suburban Democrats, and the chief factor in the stop-Choate movement.

Jaffe, however, had continued voting for Choate on 22 ballots after Democrats responsive to Chicago Mayor Richard Daley deserted the former frontrunner to back Redmond.

Also switching to Redmond on the 65th ballot was Rep. Ted Leverenz, D-Maywood, newly elected representative from the 5th Legislative District. Leverenz' fellow Democrat from the 5th District, Jack B. Williams of Franklin Park, remained loyal to Choate.

Choate's refusal to withdraw raised the possibility that the anti-Choate drive might be forced to turn to yet another compromise candidate. Choate was reported, through aides, to be willing to lend his backing to another candidate, but determined to block Redmond because of his campaign aimed directly against Choate.

Redmond has let it be known that Choate would not be a member of the Democratic leadership if he is elected speaker.

Without interference from Republicans, who have remained unanimously in support of their leader, Rep. James Washburn of Morris, Choate needs only 13 of the 101 Democratic votes to block Redmond indefinitely.

While there was believed to be ample sentiment for Redmond on the Republican side of the aisle, the GOP stood by its caucus agreement throughout Monday's continuous balloting.

There is also fear that Daley — who does not wish to see a Democratic speaker beholden to the Republicans — might call off his support of Redmond if the GOP attempted to take a hand in his election.

While the possibility of another candidate was raised Monday, organizers of the anti-Choate movement were reluctant to attempt that tactic.

Rep. John Schaefer, D-Naperville, the original backer of Redmond, said "it would be very difficult" to turn the necessary forces to a second compromise candidate.

While there are a number of other candidates whom the independents term "acceptable," it is questionable that both Daley and Gov. Walker could agree on another choice.

Among the more prominent alternatives are Rep. Roland Tiesword of Taylorville and Rep. Gerald Bradley of Bloomington. Bradley, however, is given little chance of gaining Daley's support because he is the first choice of Walker, and Tiesword has often been antagonistic to Chicago interests.

Other candidates, including Rep. Harold A. Katz of Glenview, and Rep. John Matijevich of North Chicago, are doubtful prospects for the backing either of Daley or many Downstate Democrats.

A Federal Trade Commission judge ruled Monday that Encyclopedia Britannica Inc. has been deceiving both its salesmen and customers with numerous ruses designed to unload expensive sets of books. House Dems vow $10 billion tax cut

WASHINGTON (UPI) — House Democratic leaders — with the 94th Congress ready to open at noon today — pledged Monday to pass a tax cut of $10 billion or more in 60 days as part of a Democratic plan to combat recession.

The broad 12-point plan, whose other proposals to boost the economy included more aid to the jobless and interest rate subsidies for housing, immediately drew fire from Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott, who scoffed at its chances of approval.

In capital letters, Scott wrote "not enacted by the 93rd Congress" next to 10 of the 12 points. Scott said in a statement: "This must have been the 15th or 20th such manifesto on the economy issued since the beginning of the 93rd Congress from one house or another or from the Democratic National Committee.

"These manifestoes receive a certain amount of publicity and then are followed by magnificent inaction."

Scott accused the Democrats of trying to undercut President Ford's program by getting theirs out first, but Speaker Carl Albert denied any such intent. "We mean business; we intend to act," he said in issuing the Democratic plan.

The program, produced by a 10-member Democratic task force, also called for executive power to block big companies' price increases for 90 days or for longer in the case of monopolies, and allocation of credit to housing and small business instead of "speculative and inflationary uses."

The most innovative idea was for a tax to discourage banks from charging more than 9 per cent interest on loans. Income earned from higher rates would be taxed away.

At a crowded news conference, a frowning Albert refused to be pinned down on what size tax cut he or the panel favored.

He said economists had been calling for tax cuts ranging from $10 billion to $20 billion. "I assume it will be higher than $10 billion" and somewhere within that range, he said.

Rep. Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis., a member of the task force, said $15 billion was discussed.

The Democrats' seven-page paper showed they were unable to agree on ways to curb energy consumption without sending the economy into a tailspin.

The panel settled on asking House committees to look at a gamut of ideas ranging from rationing of gasoline and fuel oil to higher taxes and weekend sales bans.

such as New England, or in any specific industries or areas of human need where oil is essential." New England is the area most dependent on foreign oil imports.

• A tax on the "windfall profits" of the oil companies.

• Delaying by five years the tough anti-pollution standards so that automakers can build cars to yield a 40 per cent improvement in gas mileage.

• "Stronger measures" to speed development of coal, nuclear, solar and geothermal energy resources.

Ford said his energy program is designed to ensure U.S. invulnerability by 1985 to foreign oil embargos.

"If Congress speedily enacts this national energy program, there will be no need for compulsory rationing or long waiting lines at the service station," Ford said. "Gasoline prices will go up, though not as much as with a 20-cent-a-gallon gas tax. Furthermore, the burden of the conservation taxes on oil will be shared by all petroleum users, not just motorists."

"We must turn America in a new direction," he said. "We must reverse the current recession, reduce unemployment and create more jobs. We must restore the confidence of consumers and investors alike. We must continue an effective plan to curb inflation. We must, without delay, take firm control of our progress as a free people."

The President said he would not propose any new federal spending programs, except for energy, and added, "I will not hesitate to veto any new spending programs that Congress sends to me."

"I will insist on a 5 per cent limit on any federal pay increases in 1975 and I will ask Congress to put the same temporary 5 per cent ceiling on automatic cost of living increases in government and military retirement pay, and Social Security," he said.

Some CIA 'misdemeanors' disclosed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Defense Secretary James Schlesinger acknowledged Monday that a post-Watergate review of the Central Intelligence Agency's activities uncovered a small number of "misdemeanors" over the past 20 years.

Schlesinger, a former director of the CIA, made the disclosure to reporters after testifying for an hour before an eight-member panel which President Ford recently named to investigate charges that the CIA has illegally spied on citizens in the United States.

Schlesinger said: "I think there were a number of issues that came about as a result of the review of intelligence activities perpetrated by Watergate."

He did not characterize the violations, except to say: "These things must be viewed in the context of the 20-year history of the CIA — most of the things uncovered go all the way back through the 1950s. The number of misdemeanors in that period is quite small."

Asked if the CIA had taken steps to end those violations, Schlesinger replied, "corrective actions are continuously necessary in any institution."

Schlesinger was preceded as a witness by CIA director William Colby, who opened the closed hearing.

Colby was expected to be questioned on a top-secret report which he recently prepared for Ford in response to charges the CIA had spied on some 9,000 antiwar activists and other dissenters.

Former CIA director Richard Helms, who headed the agency when many of the illegal spying activities allegedly took place, appeared before the commission after Schlesinger.

Vice President Nelson A. Rockefeller, head of the commission, opened the first meeting by pledging to "get to the bottom of this problem" and if necessary recommend legislation to curb domestic spying by the CIA.

Rockefeller told reporters after the closed session that Schlesinger did not detail the misdemeanors but that the information on which he based them will be made available later.

Rockefeller said Colby made a lengthy report to the commission that went beyond the top secret report Colby made to Ford last month.

Rockefeller said the committee, which meets again next Monday, will not at this time ask Congress for subpoena power since Colby has agreed to make any member of his staff available for questioning.

Bazooka rockets hit plane at Orly airport

PARIS (UPI) — Two men fired four Soviet-made bazooka rockets at Paris' Orly airport Monday in an apparent bid to destroy a New York-bound Israeli El Al jetliner with 147 persons on board, but hit a Yugoslav plane instead.

Police said the gunmen escaped. One of the rockets which closely missed the El Al Boeing 707 went through the fuselage of a JAT Yugoslav airline DC9 less than five minutes after 36 passengers had left the plane.

One Yugoslav steward and a French policeman were injured and the plane's hostess suffered from shock, police said.

Anonymous telephone calls to editorial offices in Paris claimed the attack was launched by the Black September or other pro-Palestinian groups allegedly to avenge Israeli attacks on Arab guerrillas in Lebanon.

In the Mideast, meanwhile, Israeli troops backed by armor and artillery struck into southern Lebanon in the second successive overnight anti-guerrilla operation and blew up five houses in the face of resistance from Lebanese gunners and Palestinian guerrillas.

Arab newsmen in southern Lebanon said Israeli troops backed by armored cars, artillery and helicopter fire attacked across the border and fought with Palestinian guerrillas around the village of Kfar Chouba, one mile inside Lebanon.

County wrapup

$2 million to RTA on 'one-time' basis

Cook County Board members voted to give $2 million to the Regional Transportation Authority Monday and in a second breath asked the Illinois General Assembly to get the county out of the position of having to make a similar donation again.

The county action to make the $2 million contribution, coupled with a City of Chicago promise of $3 million, will satisfy legislative requirements that must be met before the RTA can give money to the Chicago Transit Authority.

Comr. Carl Hansen cast the only vote against giving the money to the RTA. Hansen, R-Mount Prospect, argued that the donation would take away from money needed for road-maintenance and repair work.

He pointed out that county board members had been given no information about how the $2 million will fit into the RTA budget and that Dunne was unable to answer where the county will turn for funds to maintain and repair roads.

Comr. John H. Stroger Jr. said he sympathized with Hansen's worries about the loss of motor fuel tax funds. But Stroger said that in the long run the money given to the RTA will encourage use of public transportation and will reduce the need for road repairs and new highways.

In proposing the resolution to ask the legislature to exempt the county from having to make annual contributions to the RTA, Dunne pointed out that other counties in the RTA area aren't required to contribute.

Dunne also argued that the RTA has its own power to seek revenue and shouldn't have to take money from the county budget.

$300,000 available for elderly

Nearly $300,000 in federal funds is available for agencies, clubs and other groups in Cook County suburbs that provide social services for senior citizens.

Groups wishing to apply for the grants through the Older American Act must submit a written request to the Suburban Cook County Area Agency on Aging by Feb. 1.

The money can be used in the areas of health, continuing education, housing assistance and homemaker services, information and referral, volunteer opportunities, counseling and recreation for people older than 60.

Written requests for grants should be sent to Esther Rabchuk, executive director of the Suburban Aging Office, 1818 E. Northwest Hwy., Arlington Heights.

Applicants should describe their work, specify plans for the funds and tell what other resources are available. Formal applications will be sent later to eligible groups and funds will be distributed starting in July.

No judge-vote recount

Despite vote errors in six precincts, a jammed voting machine in Evanston and six lost precinct envelopes, attorney John A. Nordberg will not seek a recount of Nov. 5 judicial election votes.

Circuit Court Judge Robert C. Buckley of Arlington Heights defeated Nordberg by 347 votes in the race for a suburban court seat. More than 507,000 votes were cast in the race.

"We didn't find enough error (in a discovery examination of 165 precincts in December) and the cost of a recount is out of the question," Nordberg said.

In 1960, Circuit Court judge set a $250,000 bond for a recount of ballots involving now State's Atty. Bernard Carey. "It's an all-or-nothing proposition" because a successful challenge costs nothing, Nordberg said. But, an unsuccessful recount could cost Nordberg more than $250,000.

Nordberg paid $825 to check ballots in the 165 precincts. The examination will not change results of the election.

But, unofficially Nordberg gained 22 votes and Buckley lost 17 in a recheck of the vote totals. The largest change was in Precinct 1 in Calumet Township, where Buckley "lost" 37 votes.

Nordberg said other votes would be gained in Evanston Township where the Republican ticket "from top to bottom" received a minimum of 81 votes. Buckley received 79 and Nordberg, a Golf, Ill., Republican attorney, received none. "They discovered at the end of the day that the lever opposite my name was jammed," Nordberg said.

Six envelopes of precinct absentee ballots still are "missing," a spokesman for County Clerk Stanley Kusper said Monday. "Absentees usually even out," the spokesman said.

Playboy secretary involved in drug dealing found dead

The body of Bobbie Arnstein, social secretary of Playboy magazine magnate Hugh Hefner, was found in a Chicago hotel room Monday, an apparent suicide victim.

She was appealing a 15-year sentence for illegal drug trafficking involving the Playboy properties. Police said Miss Arnstein, 32, checked into the Maryland Hotel Saturday under an assumed name.

Cause of the death has not been determined, but several suicide notes were found in the room, police said. She had been residing in the Playboy mansion in Chicago even after she was convicted last year on federal charges of conspiring with a boyfriend and two other men to bring cocaine from Miami to Chicago. Hefner and several other Playboy executives have been subpoenaed to testify in continuing investigations.

ERA passage predicted

State Sen. Esther Saperstein, D-Chicago, predicted Monday that the Illinois General Assembly will ratify the Equal Rights Amendment by March. The amendment specifically granting equal rights to women has been approved by 35 states, five short of the number needed to make it law.

Last year the amendment, which requires a two-thirds majority in the General Assembly, failed by two votes in the Senate.

Lottery subscriptions OK'd

A $1 lottery ticket game and lottery subscription plan were authorized Monday by the Illinois Lottery Control Board.

Lottery Supt. Ralph Batch said he expects the ticket subscription plan to begin by late March or early April. Details of the $1 lottery will be announced within the next few weeks.

The subscription plan would allow buyers to purchase one ticket good for 12, 26 or 52 weeks.

Prison strike threatened

Illinois Dept. of Corrections director Allyn R. Sielaff said he would meet with union representatives about a threatened strike at Menard State Prison, but added that any strike there would be illegal.

Some 160 guards of the total 330 union members at the prison voted Friday night to strike unless two officers suspended by Sielaff last week are reinstated. The two were charged with espousing philosophy of the Ku Klux Klan and discriminating against blacks.

Chief tells of near crash

Decatur Fire Marshal Robert R. Corey testified Monday that firemen narrowly averted a propane gas explosion last Nov. 1 when leaking tank cars were found in the Norfolk and Western Ry. yards in Decatur.

A BALLOON CROSSING of Lake Michigan is scheduled to begin at 8 a.m. today from Palwaukee Airport near Wheeling. Paul Woessner, left, and Steve Neulander say their trip in "The Magnificent Ratfour" will be the first crossing of the lake in a hot-air balloon. The men will fly to an altitude of 5,000 feet during the trip.

Testifying before the Illinois Commerce Commission in Springfield, Corey said no explosion occurred, but residents were evacuated while firemen worked feverishly to smother the escaping gas fumes. He said the vapors could have exploded if they had reached an ignition source, causing a tragedy like the explosion that killed seven persons in N&W yards last July.

Corey said he was told by railroad officials that the car was enroute from New York, where the leak had first been found, and he questioned why it was even allowed into the yard in Decatur.

Student loses leg

The left leg of a University of Illinois student was severed Sunday in an apparent accident in the school's psychology building. Michael Zopf, 22, was found lying in a stairwell with his leg nearby. University officials declined speculation about the injury except to say he may have fallen from an upper level. He was admitted to a Champaign hospital in serious condition.

Illinois briefs

Bond set in extortion

Bond was set at $10,000 for Earl Dean Schlobohm, 19, of Peoria, when he appeared before a U.S. Magistrate in Seattle, Wash., Monday on charges of writing extortion letters to the Randolph Hearst family. Schlobohm is charged with writing the letters from Whatcom County Jail at Bellingham, Wash., while he was awaiting extradition to Illinois on a charge of armed robbery. Details of the alleged extortion incident were not disclosed.

Rentschler ordered to pay

William H. Rentschler, co-manager of Richard M. Nixon's 1968 Illinois presidential campaign, was ordered to pay $335,475 as guarantor of a 1971 loan from a Maryland bank to Photo Magnetic Systems Inc., of Maryland. The judgment was ordered by U.S. District Court Judge Richard B. Austin Monday in Chicago. Rentschler was twice unsuccessful in bids for Republican senatorial nominations.

Rentschler was indicted in November 1973 on charges that he defrauded 25 banks and three other financial institutions of more than $1 million.

From current $12 to as high as $15 a year

School book rental fees going up

Textbook rental fees in High School Dist. 214 will be up to $3 higher next school year.

The board of education Monday night approved a resolution calling for a hike in the district's $12 rental fee to "as high as $15 per year."

The administration earlier requested a flat fee of $15 in the 1975-76 school year. But in a presentation to the board Monday, Robert Weber, assistant superintendent for business services, said an increase as high as $15 might not be necessary.

"WE'D LIKE TO SEE what the costs (of instructional materials) will be before setting a definite figure," said Weber. Weber estimated the fee would be between $14 and $15.

Due to rising costs of books and other supplies, the district subsidized about $84,000 for textbooks and supplies in 1973-74. It is estimated the district will again subsidize textbooks by about $50,000 during the current school year.

Under the Illinois School Code, school districts that have a textbook rental fee must cover the entire cost of the books and supplies through the fee and may not subsidize the purchase of books and supplies substantially.

Other options the board could have taken were dismissed by the board. The options included:

'Separate but equal' sports programs OK'd

Under a policy, approved Monday night by the High School Dist. 214 Board of Education, boys' and girls' athletic programs will be "separate but equal."

The policy evolved out of several instances at Dist. 214 schools this year, where boys turned out for girls' athletic teams in bowling and archery because the district offered no similar program for boys.

Under recent federal guidelines, schools must provide equal opportunities in athletics.

The policy, recently adopted by High School Dist. 211, states its philosophy "that 'equal' opportunity means 'comparable' opportunity, not 'identical' opportunity" for girls and boys.

In view of federal guidelines which call for equal athletic opportunities, Dist. 214 Atty. Allyn Franke has advised, "Your approach is a reasonable one, but whether it will be acceptable, only time will tell."

Under the policy:

- Basketball, gymnastics and baseball — softball for girls

- Have the students buy their own textbooks; which is estimated to cost students four or five times more than the present rental system.

- Reduce supply expenditures to balance with revenue.
- Conduct a referendum to eliminate textbook fees, which would then be paid — will have different rules governing girls and boys competition. Boys and girls may not cross over and play on a team of the opposite sex.

• Collision or contact activities will be provided in separate programs for boys and girls based on student interest. At present football and wrestling are offered for boys and field hockey, volleyball and fencing are offered to girls. If a volleyball team were organized for boys the rules would be different.

• Golf, cross country, track, tennis and swimming will be offered separately to boys and girls. Currently, golf and cross country are not offered to girls on a Mid-Suburban League basis, but will be sanctioned when more than one-half of the schools are ready to participate.

• Badminton, archery and bowling are provided exclusively to girls "in order to increase their opportunity so that their opportunities move towards equalization with boys. The policy takes the position that for sports in this category, the school has the legal responsibility and right to exclude participation of boys."

Must hand out ballots, count votes

19 April election judges still needed

Nineteen openings still exist for judges in the Buffalo Grove municipal election April 15, Village Clerk Verna Clayton said.

The village uses 60 judges to hand out ballots, count votes and report totals.

Buffalo Grove uses five judges in each of its 12 voting precincts. Mrs. Clayton said all the openings in four precincts have already been filled.

Mrs. Clayton said so far, many of the positions have been filled with residents who worked the 1973 election.

Other commitments have come in from persons who worked as judges in previous state and national elections. "We've gotten quite a few that way," said Mrs. Clayton. "The preference is to have experienced people but if we can't, we'll take people who are willing to serve." Judges attend a training session prior to the election.

To qualify as judges, residents must be registered voters and live within the precincts they serve. The pay is $30.

Two of the filled precincts, 11 and 12, are in the voting districts in the Lake County section of the village. In addition, Precincts 5 and 9, both in Cook County, are filled.

Mrs. Clayton said persons interested in becoming election officials should call her at the village hall, 537-8984.

Funds for village doubtful to say how much Buffalo Grove would receive.

Larson said funding to Buffalo Grove would provide a form of financial relief because the grant could be used to subsidize employees to work on projects the village has had to defer because of budgetary constraints.

He said the village was hoping to hire additional employees but has had to hold off because of tight financing.

Larson said he is sending a letter to Cook County officials asking a re-evaluation of Buffalo Grove's request despite his dim hopes the village will qualify for much if any funding.

Junior ski program still has openings

Buffalo Grove park officials are still looking for participants for the junior phase of its skiing program at the Villa Olivia ski area in Bartlett.

Immediate openings are available for youths 10 to 17, park officials said.

The program runs for five weeks with the first session scheduled for today from 4:30 to 9 p.m.

A $40.50 fee will be charged for children with or without skiing equipment.

Interested residents may register at the park district office, 150 Raupp Blvd. or may call the park offices, 537-0356, for further information.

MSD bribe kept Peskin off stand, lawyer says

Convicted attorney Bernard M. Peskin refused to take the stand at his bribery trial last year because he did not want to answer questions by federal prosecutors about a bribe paid to a Metropolitan Sanitary District official, Peskin's attorney said Monday.

Atty. Thomas Sullivan made the statement before a three-judge U.S. Appeals Court panel while arguing for a reversal or mistrial of Peskin's bribery conviction.

Sullivan said Peskin, convicted of passing bribes from developer Kaufman and Broad Homes, Inc., to six Hoffman Estates village officials in 1968, did not want to take the stand and thus be forced to answer questions about an alleged bribe paid by Kaufman and Broad to an unnamed sanitary district official.

SULLIVAN SAID the alleged bribe was made after the payoffs to Hoffman Estates officials but he did not give further details. Kaufman and Broad was not available for comment on the statement.

Sullivan disclosed that U.S. District Court Judge Frank J. McGarr had ruled in pretrial conferences that if Peskin took the stand, he would have to respond to questions on the sanitary district bribe.

The ruling prevented Peskin from testifying, Sullivan said, thus hampering his defense.

Peskin had been convicted on five counts of bribery and one count each of conspiracy and income tax evasion for his role in funneling bribes from K&B to six former Hoffman Estates officials in exchange for their approval of zoning for the Barrington Square project.

A DECISION FROM U.S. Appellate Judges Thomas Clark, Thomas E. Fairchild and Robert A. Sprecher is not expected for several months, Asst. U.S. Atty. John Cooley said after the session.

Peskin has been sentenced to 3 years in prison for his role in the scheme, but remains free pending the appeal.

Sullivan told the judges the alleged MSD bribery incident was not raised in the trial because Peskin did not take the stand, and because of that the jury did not hear testimony which differed from that of the six convicted former village officials.

Sullivan said Peskin's failure to testify was "of constitutional magnitude."

THE ATTORNEY also argued Peskin and K&B, builders of Barrington Square, were the victims of extortion by the six former officials rather than the perpetrators of bribes. Sullivan had made the same argument during the three-week trial last year.

A jury, however, found Peskin guilty on seven of 10 counts for his role in funneling money from K&B to six former village officials in 1968 in exchange for favorable zoning for Barrington Square.

Sullivan told the panel the jury heard only one side of the scheme because Peskin did not take the stand in his defense.

HE CHARGED the jury based its decision mainly on testimony from the six former officials who admitted taking bribes from not only K&B, but other developers. Had Peskin testified, Sullivan said he could have cast doubt on the other testimonies and "would have demonstrated what liars these trustees were."

Prosecuting attorney Cooley, however, said both K&B, the largest home builder in the country, and Peskin, a former state representative, were not the typical targets of extortion but instead engineered the scheme.

He said Peskin was deliberately chosen by K&B because he was "experienced and influential."

HE ADDED IF the officials had attempted to extort money from K&B, authorities should have been notified.

Several other points were raised by Sullivan, including the time sequence of dates the bribes were paid and the time the money was transferred across interstate lines to Peskin from K&B for the payments.

He said statutes regarding illegal interstate transport say the channeling of money must come before the bribe is made.

But one of the former officials convicted in the case, Roy Jenkins, testified he received money from Peskin on Oct. 30, 1968, about a month before K&B reimbursed Peskin for the bribe payments, Sullivan charged.

On that point Cooley argued that the bribery scheme intended to continue after the Oct. 30 payment with additional money to be funneled when building permits for Barrington Square were issued the following spring.

Those additional payments were never made.

COOLEY ALSO disputed Sullivan's argument that Judge McGarr influenced the jury when he asked them after 27 hours of deliberation if they were near a decision.

McGarr had said he would declare a mistrial if the jury was not prepared to reach a verdict at that time.

Cooley said Sullivan did not object to the action at the time the judge made his statements and argued the judge acted because he was wary of declaring a mistrial if the jury was near a verdict.

Oxidation will turn potatoes black

Dear Dorothy: Why do potatoes turn black after cooking?—Mary De Napoli
Potatoes sometimes turn black after boiling because they have not been covered with water and oxidation occurs. Other times it's because they've either been frozen or picked when green. When a potato is black in the center, it could be from poor storage and wouldn't taste good so should be thrown away.

One good cook I know has always added 1 tsp. vinegar to the water in which potatoes are to be boiled so they will stay white. Another covers the potatoes with cold water, adds 1 tsp. lemon juice. After boiling them for 15 minutes, she adds salt and cooks them until done. I've been cooking potatoes for 40 years — adding just water, salt and pepper. And never a time when they've been white.

Dear Dorothy: I have some beautiful pale blue nylon panels which I can no longer use as they are so sheer. Is there any way these curtains can be made opaque? I've never heard of it but just hated to throw them away until I checked with you. You've fielded many thorny problems.—Mrs. T.R.C.

Thank you for the compliment. What you've given me, though, isn't a thorny problem but an impossible one. Dyeing doesn't change fiber structure and texture, so since it can't change the density of a fabric, there would be no way to achieve an opaque appearance on sheer curtains. I can see you're not a member of the inner circle because the true pack rat never considers throwing anything away. What if one moved someday and there was an attic window needing covering?

Herald opinion

Suburb stadium idea has merit

A large sports stadium near Arlington Park? It's an idea that deserves at least the thorough attention of those who have the power to construct such a stadium.

Last week The Herald reported that the president of Madison Square Garden Corp., which owns Arlington Park and adjacent land, is considering such a stadium, while suspending plans, at least temporarily, for a high-rise residential development.

We encourage the corporation to proceed with a feasibility study, for there's no overwhelming reason that such a stadium in Arlington Heights — or in another Northwest suburb, for that matter — should be rejected out of hand.

Chicago's power structure would, of course, prefer to keep the Chicago Bears and other sports attractions within Chicago's city limits, for it has an obvious interest in keeping the sports dollar within the city.

But the trend in the sports world today is to move stadiums out to the suburbs, where the fans and the parking are available. In city after city — Minneapolis-St. Paul and New York are good examples — new suburban stadiums are built or planned to serve the sports spectator.

Development of a stadium at Arlington Park probably would draw local opposition, especially from Rolling Meadows and Arlington Heights, for the annexation of the track to Arlington Heights in 1969 has been followed by controversy about the use of the track for large-scale sports events.

But Madison Square Garden Corp. has a legitimate right to develop the property to gain a return on its substantial investment — and the construction of a stadium, which would draw thousands of fans to watch sports events, is legitimate land use.

In addition, there's the readily accessible Chicago & North Western Ry. to provide train service to and from the stadium, much as the service is now provided to Arlington Park. Perhaps the presence of a stadium would even encourage the development of sorely-needed mass transit from other nearby suburban areas.

In short, Madison Square Garden Corp. should go ahead with its feasibility study, and Chicago's sports leaders, especially Bears' owner George Halas Sr., should consider the property as a prime spot for a sports stadium.

Even though a sports team has "Chicago" in its name, that team's home games don't have to be played within Chicago. The idea of a full-scale local stadium deserves full-scale consideration.

en once or twice when they knew themselves to be too drunk to drive.

- Another one-fourth have driven three or more times when drunk.

Granted, adults haven't set a good example for the youth of this land, for excessive drinking is glorified and engrained in modern American folklore.

Nevertheless, children don't have to follow always the bad example set by their parents. They can exercise intelligent judgment on their own, and it's something that shouldn't have to be part of their formal education.

Preparation for life

High school education, if it is to serve the persons it is designed to serve, must deal with more than academic abstractions. It must teach young persons how to cope intelligently with some of the awesome problems involved in becoming an adult.

That definition is the aim of a night school course to be offered later this month for pregnant students in High School Dist. 211, a course approved last week by that district's school board.

To be offered to a projected 20 pregnant girls, the course will be called "Preparation for Life" and will cover such topics as family living and child care, nutrition, physical and emotional needs of the child and parents, contraception and life goals.

Dist. 214 also offers such a course, and both are positive additions to the curriculum. In another era, youthful pregnancy was viewed with horror and scorn. Today, it is viewed rightly as a reality which should be treated with education, not contempt. We laud this enlightened approach.

Playing politics with immortalization

by DICK WEST

The first political bombshell of the new year was President Ford's veto of the bill to name a government building in his honor.

Observers in Washington were stunned by the action, which may badly damage Ford's chances for a harmonious relationship with the incoming Congress.

"He is really flinging down the gauntlet on this one," a senator who was instrumental in passage of the legislation told me. "I never thought he would go this far."

Under the measure, an edifice in Grand Rapids, Mich., Ford's home town, would have been named the "President Gerald R. Ford Federal Office Building."

FORD VETOED it on grounds there was no precedent for naming government buildings for Presidents while they were still in office.

Proponents of the measure viewed the move as a thinly disguised ploy to capture the humility vote in 1976.

"Ford is such a fine, upstanding citizen even Democrats could not resist the opportunity to honor his name," one of the bill's Democratic supporters fumed.

"Now he's using immortalization as a political football."

"He knows full well that the shrinking violets in this country normally vote Democratic. This veto makes it appear he is striking a blow for modesty, which will work to his advantage in 1976."

SINCE THE VETO came while Congress was in adjournment, the lawgivers have no opportunity override it. But the issue is by no means dead.

Backers of the measure say attempts will be made to revive and possibly strengthen it early in the new session.

That would invite another veto, but on the second time around Democrats would be in a position to flex their veto-proof majority.

"When we get through, federal buildings not only in Grand Rapids but all over Michigan will be named after Ford," a House Democrat predicted.

"Apart from the political impact, there's a principle at stake that goes directly to the heart of the constitutional separation of powers."

"Our Founding Fathers clearly never intended to give Presidents any voice in where, when or how they are immortalized."

"If we let Ford get by with this, the right of Congress to name buildings after its own members could be in jeopardy."

"We'll be politicians without honor on our own home town post office."

letters to the editor

In behalf of our local branch of the National Association of Letter Carriers and in the sincere interest of a better postal service, we want to state our position concerning certain policies. Our purpose is not intended to criticize our employer but to acquaint the public with truthful facts to correct distortions and misinformation.

First of all, we want our customers to know that the letter carrier delivers, each day, all the mail volume which management permits to be delivered. In other words, when the letter carrier leaves early in the morning for his assigned hours of delivery time, he carries with him all of the mail provided by management for delivery that day. The letter carrier is not responsible for any mail delays and is, in fact, very sensitive to any service problems. We are working as a union for the best possible service policies and are not responsible for the problems which our customers have called to our attention and which are stated below.

- We do not condone curtailment of any type of mail and feel if our routes were properly adjusted, there would not be the serious delays which are now being experienced.

- There is a daily average of more than 11 million pieces of mail which are not deliverable as addressed. Your mail carrier has always forwarded this mail and placed correct addresses on mis-addressed pieces. This has permitted prompt delivery of such mail. That job has now been taken from us and the forwarding of mail is now being computerized, thereby causing some serious delays in ultimate delivery.

- Our assignments are based on strictly full eight-hour assignments. It is necessary to keep moving without any consideration for fatigue, for our entire assignment. As in case of the weather, like rain or snow we are required to keep moving and not take any more time to deliver the mail than on a nice sunny day. We resent being followed and spied upon as we perform our duties and we feel that at a time when our country is involved in an energy crisis, the Postal Service should not be burning valuable

Economics course for officials

A friend of mine has been spending more money than he has made for the last 15 or 20 years. It has even gotten so bad that twice in the last few years he has refused to honor the outstanding commitments he has made to his creditors. Though this friend has solved his problems, at least on the short term, by printing money to cover some of his debts, he has a fine reputation among his friends as a real generous uncle.

This reputation exists even though to keep up with his philanthropic giving he has actually taken more from people, via a tax, than he could ever return. His generosity has become so widespread that he has hired hundreds of thousands of people to help disburse the money that really isn't there.

You all know my friend — he is Uncle Sam. A very soft touch indeed. A very gasoline in the autos of nonproductive supervision. Supervisors are required to spend at least two hours daily driving around our routes at a cost of millions of dollars to the taxpayer. While their attempts to increase productivity are futile, their covert tactics seriously deteriorate morale.

As one of the few unions which insist upon service, we are proud of our past efforts and accomplishments. We are not proud of the fact that our image is now being tarnished by deterioration of postal services. We need your support and seek it through a better understanding of the fact that the letter carrier is not responsible for the continuing problems within the Postal Service.

generous fellow with money he does not have. As the printing presses work night and day to keep up with the giving and the inflation which results, we have elected officials telling us that we should write our Congressmen and tell them to keep up this fraud — called revenue sharing. Our government is bankrupt. Inflation is robbing the middle class taxpayers at an ever increasing rate, but still we are told that a federal government that is bankrupt can disburse money it does not have. This, somehow, is supposed to save the people of Elk Grove Village money.

It would seem that some of our elected officials here in Elk Grove Village need a good basic course in economics.

Library not a priority for $2.5 million

In the general election coming up in April, Arlington Heights will probably have a chance to vote on the issue of whether or not they want $2.5 million to go to expand the Arlington Heights Memorial Library.

I don't think that the expansion should be approved. We have a well-equipped library to begin with. I don't believe that a bigger library would best serve the interest of the general public.

I think that the money could be put to better use if it went to combat the serious drug problem in our community, or went into programs to help the aged and the poor in this community.

Anybody who takes a good look at our town could find a more appropriate way to spend the money.

For every dollar of the $2.5 million, there is a person in our world starving. A paragraph on the front page of The Herald on Tuesday stated as follows, "With the village board's decision to allow the library's use of the Dunton Avenue site, passage of a bond issue to raise building funds is the next step. The library board will discuss referendum plans at its regular Jan. 14 meeting."

The way I interpret this is that the library found out they could have the land on Dec. 16. They have announced that they probably would put a building referendum before the public April 1. They won't even discuss their plans until Jan. 14.

I'll bet that if they didn't receive the land, they wouldn't make very large building plans. It sure looks like the library doesn't put much thought into how they throw around such a large amount of money.

Remember, the $2.5 million will be coming from your tax dollars, so please think about it before you vote.

Dorothy Meyer's column

Raquel, have I got a bargain!

by DOROTHY MEYER

In a recent attempt to gain some closet space and perchance even realize a dollar or two doing it, I spent half a day cleaning and pressing a lot of clothes I don't wear any more so they'd be presentable for resale. Which is more attention than I give the clothes I do wear.

Next, I gathered together the already cleaned and pressed left-overs from a highly unsuccessful garage sale I had last year, and I wish the government which is funding a study to find out why so many people say "ain't" would fund one to find out why so many people don't buy clothing at a garage sale.

Then I started trying to find a resale shop that would accept my lovely cleaned and pressed rejects.

I WILL BE HONEST and admit that a few items were so old they're coming back in style, but a lot of them are comparatively young and I would be wearing them today except that the middle age spread has suddenly sneaked up behind me. (Any time I can't quite decide if something still fits okay, I wear it to work and if a guy who's never before bought me a cup of coffee buys me a cup of coffee I know the skirt's too tight.)

At the first resale shop a lady carefully inspected each item before rejecting my garage sale rejects as "out of style." At the second shop everything was rejected en masse on sight and at the third one the lady said, "out of style," without even looking up from the ledger she was working on. So I said, "Same to you, lady," and herded my clothes and myself back to the car.

Having lugged all the stuff in and out of the car three times and realizing that if I was a little skinnier in back I'd be wearing a lot of Out of Style brand clothes, I was too pooped and dejected to bother unloading everything when I got home.

That was three weeks ago and the clothes are still in the back seat.

I HAVE SINCE parked in any area I read about as having a high incidence of auto break-ins, hoping somebody will break into mine and steal the clothes. I've left the car unlocked all night with the porch light on for a passing thief's convenience and illumination, and I've even gift wrapped some of the things. But I'm still stuck with it.

Last week I noticed that Mr. Blackwell published his annual "worst dressed women" list and I wasn't on it. But Raquel Welch and Richard Burton's princess were, which makes me wonder if either of them might like to buy my clothes.

Or at least help me get on the list — I hate to have all that cleaning and pressing go completely to waste.

'Outrageous' policy

The statement by Secretary Kissinger, affirmed by President Ford, indicating that the United States might consider using military force against Middle East oil producers in the event that the oil producers actions threatened our economy is so outrageous that I cannot understand the lack of response to the concept that we would risk war to force a sovereignty to sell us their national resource.

Could you take a survey of the general population and our governmental representatives to establish whether or not the citizenry supports this policy?

The almanac

Today is Tuesday, Jan. 14, the 14th day of 1975 with 351 to follow.

The moon is between its new phase and first quarter.

The morning stars are Mars and Saturn.

The evening stars are Mercury, Venus and Jupiter.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Capricorn.

Philosopher and medical missionary Albert Schweitzer was born Jan. 14, 1875.

On this day in history:
• In 1914, Henry Ford originated the "assembly line" method of manufacturing automobiles, completing one car every 93 minutes.

• In 1940, FBI agents seized 18 persons in New York City and charged them with conspiring to overthrow the U.S. government.

• In 1943, President Franklin D. Roosevelt and British Prime Minister Winston Churchill opened a 10-day World War II strategy conference in Casablanca, Morocco.

• In 1974, a panel of three Maryland judges ruled that resigned vice president Spiro Agnew was "unfit" to be a lawyer and should be disbarred.

A thought for the day: Albert Schweitzer said: "Truth has no special time of its own. Its hour is now . . . always."

Area doctors get ready to unionize

by KAREN BLECHA

At 10 a.m. your doctor is in the operating theater at a local hospital, performing surgery. An hour later the doctor sits in a smoke-filled room at a bargaining table, negotiating for his rights.

It could happen; the groundwork has been laid. More and more doctors are joining the Illinois Physicians Union. They want the same rights as teachers, said Dr. George Lagorio, IPU president.

"Our membership is getting bigger every month," said Lagorio, Des Plaines family doctor and on the staff at Holy Family Hospital. A year ago, Local 635 of the AFL-CIO had 15 members; today there are 180.

"It's obvious that with more and more infringement on the way we practice, we need an organization to represent the practicing physician," Lagorio said.

Most of the 180 members in the state-wide union are doctors practicing in Cook County, Lagorio said. Nearly half of them are on staff of hospitals in the Northwest suburbs.

LAGORIO, ONE of the doctors who started organizing physicians in Illinois two years ago, has been recruiting members from this area for a year. He said doctors need a union to protect them economically and politically. No other group does this, he claims, including the American Medical Assn. or the local and state medical societies.

Doctors want to bargain collectively, he said, currently for positions where doctors actually are employed by a hospital and later if medicine becomes socialized. They want to set up grievance procedures with the government, and with health insurance carriers who refuse to honor their patients' claims. They want to be able to obtain legal aid from a union. And they want to be able to strike through what they call a paper strike.

"In a paper strike we refuse to do the paperwork necessary for hospitals to get paid from third parties like insurance companies," he said. "In Nevada, doctors went on strike three times and won."

"We do not talk about striking against patients; that is unconscionable. The only time I can conceive of a doctor striking and leaving the job is if we are ordered to carry out activities similar to what happened in the concentration camps of Nazi Germany," he said.

LAGORIO SAID the need for a physicians' union now is not economic, although some doctors believe with national health insurance there will be efforts to put physicians on salary.

"The reason doctors are joining now is the tremendous pressures brought on medical staffs by the administration of hospitals," he said. "They are telling the physicians how to practice."

Lagorio said with rising medical costs and talk of professional standard review organizations to monitor physicians, the emphasis has been put on cost control rather than quality patient care. With a union, he said, doctors can protest this change.

"We get into a situation where the hospital is run from the top down. Medical care is determined by decrees rather than by the medical staff," he said. "That won't help medical costs; they will keep going up as inflation keeps going. Within two years we will be told how we are going to practice with a cookbook. Most doctors will not accept that — it goes against our grain."

DOCTORS PAY $300 a year to belong to the union and can join individually. However, the union does not have control over a hospital until 51 per cent of the doctors are members, Lagorio said. He said the union tries to help individual members with grievances and problems when it can. For example, if a hospital threatens to take a member doctor's privileges away, the union will step in.

"It is not to the benefit of a union to help incompetents stay in practice. We do not want to represent incompetent physicians," he said. "But we will assume that a physician is innocent until proven guilty."

Lagorio said doctors here are more reluctant to join because they are more conservative in the suburbs. He said younger doctors are more apt to join because they have gotten used to the idea of collective bargaining when serving their residencies. He said the union movement for doctors started when interns and residents became organized.

Illinois is in what Lagorio calls the "intermediate" stage of organizing physicians. He said New York, California and Nevada are the frontrunners in forming doctors' unions.

Amendments to student-records law

Confidential letters to stay that way

Under recently approved amendments to the student-records law, colleges will not have to show students letters of recommendation written with the understanding that they remain confidential.

The change, along with several others, eliminates one of the most controversial portions of the law authored by U.S. Sen. James Buckley, R-N.Y. It was one of a series of amendments recently signed into law by President Ford.

The student-records law drawn up by Buckley became effective in November. It requires elementary and high schools to allow parents to inspect and challenge information in their children's school records. College students under the law may inspect and challenge their own records.

THE RECENTLY passed amendments to the law were intended "to clarify things that were unclear in the original bill and to take care of some omissions," said John Kwapisz, legislative assistant to Buckley.

The main changes provided in the amendments, Kwapisz said, are:

- A provision that confidential letters of recommendation sent to colleges or universities before Jan. 1, 1975 may remain confidential. College officials had protested that they would have to violate pledges of confidence in order to make the letters available.

- Clarification that school files are to be opened to former students as well as present students, something that was unclear in the original law.
 - A provision that parents of dependent college students may get information from a school without their child's consent. The original law would have prohibited access to a student's files by parents without consent.
 - A provision that certain "personal files" maintained by teachers or other school professions could remain confidential if they are used only by one person and are not made available to other officials. Also, the amendments provide that a student does not have to be shown his psychiatric records maintained by a school health service if the records are not distributed beyond the health service. A student may designate an outside doctor to inspect those files.
 - A provision that students may sign a release pledging not to exercise their right to look at certain recommendations that may be requested by a college for admissions or scholarships. A school could not make the release a requirement for admission to a school or a scholarship award.
- Under the law, schools that receive federal money must make files available to parents or students and must allow them to challenge derogatory information that is in the files or face the risk of losing their federal money.

Pikarsky to speak twice in suburbs

CTA chairman Milton Pikarsky, who will assume the chairmanship of the Regional Transportation Authority this month, will appear twice this week in the Northwest suburbs.

He is to speak Wednesday at the annual dinner meeting of the Northwest Municipal Conference. The conference had sought Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley, who declined, or the chairman of the RTA, if one was named in time for the meeting. The dinner is at The Lancer Restaurant in Schaumburg.

Local officials and representatives of the news media will have an opportunity to question Pikarsky at 4:45 p.m. today at the Mount Prospect Holiday Inn on Rand Road. He will appear as part of a series of meetings to acquaint him and suburban RTA board members with suburban officials and local news media.

Can MSL catch Arlington?

by MIKE KLEIN

Chris Tague and Joe Nitch are super but probably wish they'd never heard of Hinsdale Central's Dan Griebel.

Arlington will be hard to catch in Mid-Suburban swimming, although Rolling Meadows remains unbeaten while Hersey or Elk Grove may threaten.

And welcome to Paddock sports' first specialty page of the prep season. We'll present swimming news each Tuesday, gymnastics on Wednesday and wrestling on Thursday.

On to swimming!

Hersey's Tague and Arlington's Nitch moved into the national spotlight on Friday as they battled each other over 200 and 500 freestyles.

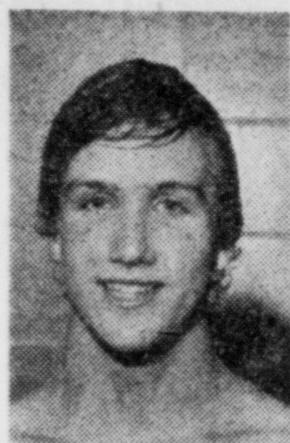

Tague and Nitch were best in the longer event. Tague won in 4:50.40 and Nitch touched at 4:51.30 as Arlington defeated Hersey, 98-73. Those clockings rank the young men third and fourth nationally, according to Swimming World times January edition.

They're among the national leaders in 200 free as Nitch won in 1:48.08 and Tague swam 1:48.14.

But ahead of Tague and Nitch in both events is Hinsdale Central's Griebel. He's been the state leader all along at 1:45.8 in 200 and 4:49.6 in 500 before last weekend.

And Griebel was the individual star at Saturday's Hinsdale South Invitational, winning the 500 in 4:45.8 and 1,000 in 9:59. The 1,000 will not be part of Illinois High School Association championships.

Arlington coach Don Andersen believes his Cardinals assured themselves at least a conference co-championship by defeating Hersey, presumably their strongest opponent.

The Cardinals are unbeaten in three meets with Buffalo Grove, Rolling Meadows, Wheeling and Forest View ahead.

Those clubs are 3-7 in MSL meets.

Two of those composite wins belong to Rolling Meadows which began its league schedule later than most and hasn't lost. The Mustangs were 94-78 winners Friday over Wheeling which stands 0-3.

Should Arlington slip, Hersey or Elk Grove might take advantage. They're each 2-1 and will swim at 2 p.m., Friday, in Disney Pool, Elk Grove's home site.

In other weekend meets, the Grenadiers surged in 100 breaststroke and 400 freestyle relay to defeat Forest View, 89-78. Mike Foley set two school records and Dan Spaulding one as Buffalo Grove got past Prospect, 94-78.

Another highlight from the Arlington-Hersey duel finds Cardinal Dixon O'Brien cracking the Paddock Swimming Honor Roll in two events.

O'Brien's 2:08.9 in 200 individual medley ranks him second behind Elk Grove's Brent Bolin, 2:08.2. State qualifying, which must be achieved in district competition, is 2:10.055.

O'Brien now stands fifth in 100 backstroke with 1:00.8.

Summaries of the Elk Grove-Forest View, Rolling Meadows-Wheeling and Prospect-Buffero Grove meets follow.

GRENS DEFEAT FALCONS

Forest View led by five points, 71-66, but saw Elk Grove sweep in 100 breaststroke and win the 400 freestyle relay to emerge with an 89-78 triumph and third place in the MSL.

Tom Jacobson, 1:09.0, Steve Clarizio, 1:12.1, and Tim Durkee, 1:12.5, swept in breaststroke for the Grenadiers. Steve Banach, Jim Cashman, Gay Drake and Bolin swam 3:34.4 for an eight-second victory in 400 freestyle relay.

Elk Grove's surge actually built full momentum when Bolin, winning his second event, nipped Forest View's Mike Zahakaylo for first in 100 backstroke. Bolin swam 1:03.2 and won by two-tenths. Earlier, he took the 200 freestyle in 1:54.1.

Coach Pete Weber's other double winner was Drake in 200 individual medley, 2:15.0, and 100 butterfly, 1:02.5. Banach won 50 freestyle, 23.6, and Cashman 500 freestyle, 5:19.3, for the Grenadiers. Forest View couldn't sustain a good start provided when Zahakaylo, freshman Jim Kantecki, Jim Rohn and Mark Oliver won 200 medley relay in 1:52.6. Rohn came back to take diving, 178.48, and Kevin Redig captured 100 freestyle, 52.6, but that was it for the Falcons.

MUSTANGS HANDLE WILDCATS

Gary Grunwald won two individual events and swam on Rolling Meadows' school record setting 400 freestyle relay team during the Mustangs' 94-78 victory against winless Wheeling.

Grunwald had a close call in 50 freestyle as he won with 23.9 and touched out Wheeling's Bill Blank, 24.2. But their closest race was the 100 free as Grunwald defeated Blank a second time. Grunwald swam 53.439 and Blank 53.482.

Tom Stahnke, Rick Sievert, Ken Stahnke and Grunwald gave Meadows its school record 3:38.2 in 400 freestyle.

The brothers Stahnke took away three events. Tom won 200 individual medley, 2:16.8, and 100 butterfly, 59.1. Ken took 100 breaststroke, 1:08.5.

Glenn Adams won 500 freestyle in 5:38.757 for Meadows which also had Jim Rowland, Dave Knox, Dan Mate and Joe Kafka win 200 medley relay in 1:55.38.

Wheeling victories were supplied by Tony Lauber in the 200 freestyle, 2:04.1; diver John Geske, 138.05; and Dan Mackie in the 100 backstroke, 1:03.9. The latter was a record.

FOLEY NOT ENOUGH FOR BISON

Mike Foley set two Buffalo Grove records and Dan Spaulding earned one but it was Prospect with better balance and victories in both relays for a 94-78 win.

Foley's records came from wins in 50 freestyle, 24.0, and 100 butterfly, 59.0. Spaulding tied the current Bison record and won 100 breaststroke, 1:12.2. Dan Woodruff won both longer freestyles, taking the 200 in 1:58.7 and 500 in 5:23.4. Steve Johnson won diving with 175.30.

But Prospect couldn't be denied. Chris Prinslow, Brad Busse, Don Balas and freshman Tom Cole won 200 medley relay in 1:49.2. Spencer Gilchrist, Mark Halverson, Gary Eichhorst and Balas ended the meet by winning 400 freestyle relay in 3:44.3.

Other Knight winners were Busse in 200 individual medley, 2:14.9, Eichhorst in 100 freestyle, 54.4, and Prinslow in 100 backstroke, 59.4.

Hersey, East score wins

Hersey and Maine East were non-conference swimming winners on Saturday. The Huskies rebounded from their Mid-Suburban loss at Arlington to defeat Libertyville, 100-72. Maine East beat Rolling Meadows, 128-44.

Junior Chris Tague and senior John Sliter led the Huskies. Each won twice.

Red Devil frosh impress Fleck

Anyone who thought Hinsdale Central might be catchable in water ought to forget it. The Red Devils are loaded for another three years.

"They've got to have the best freshman team in the country," said St. Viator head coach John Fleck after his Lions finished a distant second, 253-129, on Saturday in the Red Devils' annual frosh invitational.

Viator's best effort was second place in 200 medley relay. Mark Markwell, Rick Perry, Tim Bird and Chris Stewart swam 1:51.0.

Steve Myers recorded third places in 150 freestyle, 1:25.1, and 400 freestyle, 4:03.7. Markwell swam fourth in 50 backstroke, 28.2, and 100 individual medley, 1:03.5.

Final team scoring was Hinsdale Central 253, St. Viator 129, Peoria Richwoods 123, Carl Sandburg 103, Fenwick 95 and Loyola Academy 95.

Tague captured both long freestyles, taking the 200 in 1:48.9 and 500 in 4:54.7. Sliter won 200 individual medley, 2:31.1 and 100 butterfly, 58.2.

Tim Wheeler, Dick Hawes, Sliter and Tague captured 400 freestyle relay in 3:33.5 as Hersey won 10-of-11 events. Hawes had a 54.1 victory in 100 freestyle.

Jeff Siler, Greg Polcyn, Wheeler and Craig Bruce opened the meet by winning 200 medley relay in 1:51.6. Siler returned to take 100 breaststroke, 1:01.6, and Bruce won 100 backstroke, 1:10.2. Huskier diver Don Cashmore earned first with 243.20 points.

Libertyville won the sophomore meet, 104-61.

Maine East won all events against Rolling Meadows as Jon Tice was a double victor in 50 freestyle, 24.33 and 100 free, 53.2. Tice nipped teammate Scott Schwandt, 24.45 and Meadows' Rick Sievert, 24.53 in 50 free.

Jim Schaeffes, George Morgan, Mike Brennan and Schwandt won 200 medley relay in 1:50.3. Alan Andrews, Bob Grazian, Lloyd Esses and Lee Lannert took 400 freestyle relay in 3:53.5.

Remaining winners for East were Scott Steigerwald in 200 freestyle, 1:58.8, Gerry McKerverey in individual medley, 2:14.6, diver Chris Dickson, 249.05 points, Scott Strauss in butterfly, 59.1, Rich Childs in 500 freestyle, 5:41.3, Schaeffes in backstroke, 1:01.9 and Jim Leparski in backstroke, 1:08.3.

Maine East won the sophomore meet, 107-64.

Maine West's Tom Ptach

by MIKE KLEIN
Swimming Editor

Hersey junior Chris Tague and Arlington senior Joe Nitch are splashing out the hottest long distance freestyle news in these parts, but watch sophomore Tom Ptach of Maine West.

Ptach recorded his season's best with 5:06.9 in 500 free last Friday as coach Skip Green's Warriors smothered Niles West, 125-46, to even up at 2-2 in the Central Suburban League.

That clocking ranks Ptach third behind Tague (4:50.40) and Nitch (4:51.30) on the new Paddock Swimming Honor Roll. Importantly, Ptach is nine seconds ahead of the pace Tague maintained during his sophomore season.

Which should mean Ptach has a great future. His 500 time set a Warrior record and the young man was a double winner, taking 50 freestyle in 25.1.

Ptach also joined with Mark Ericksen, Nick Mencinger and Jim Ritzema to give West a 1:54.6 victory in 200 medley relay. Mencinger later posted a 1:10.3 victory in 100 breaststroke.

George Ericksen, Ritzema, Craig MacNab and Casey Schlachter won 400 freestyle relay in 3:45.0. Geor Ericksen Mark's older brother, al won 200 freestyle in 2:02.5. MacNa' finished first in 100 backstroke, 1:06.1.

The Warriors won eight-of-nine individual events, missing only in 100 butterfly. Other victories were supplied from Dave Gafrick in 200 individual medley, 2:22.2, diver Steve Dunham, 148.85 points and Jim Acker in 100 freestyle, 57.0.

West scored second place points in eight events, starting with 200 medley relay team. Individual runner-ups were Schlachter in 200 freestyle, 2:03.5, Mark Ericksen in individual medley, 2:25.9, Ritzema in 50 freestyle, 25.3, Doug Benton in butterfly, 1:06.8, Frank Whitson in

500 freestyle, 5:51.1, Greg Lietzau in backstroke, 1:10.5 and Jim Stenstrom in breaststroke, 1:11.2.

Maine East ran into a buzzsaw at Glenbrook North where the host Spartans chopped Ron Davitt's team, 103-68. The Demons' CSL record slid to one victory and two losses. East beat Maine West but lost at Deerfield.

The Demos won three events and all involved Jon Tice. His 5:16.5 won 500 freestyle and set a school record. He won 200 individual medley in 2:12.1. Tice, Mike Brennan, Scott Strauss and Gerry McKerverey won 400 freestyle relay in 3:38.2.

West resumes its league schedule on Friday at Niles East while the Demons host Highland Park. Both meets are 7:30 p.m. In Saturday non-conference action, East hosts Elk Grove and West visits Arlington, both at 2 p.m.

Bison meet Wildcats in cage feature

Tonight is the night that Buffalo Grove's budding basketball team moves into the big time.

Not that coach Paul Grady's young Bison haven't already faced the pressures of the hardcourt game — they were initiated into the world of Mid-Suburban League basketball last season when they managed just one conference victory.

But tonight at 8 p.m. when Buffalo Grove visits Wheeling in the first of the year's Tuesday league contests, the Bison will be playing for more than just experience. Grady's crew is in the thick of the North division battle of the MSL, one game behind Wheeling and two behind undefeated Arlington.

While the Bison, led by sophomore sensations Brian Allsmiller (21-point league average) and Mike Ledna, are tangling with the Wildcats, Arlington will host Fremd. George Zigman's Cardinals will be preparing for Friday's early showdown against Wheeling.

The other North division tussle will feature Palatine at Hersey. The Pirates will be trying to move a step closer to the top of the division and the Huskies will attempt to stay out of the basement.

In the South division, Prospect's tall machine, coached by Bill Slayton, will aim to keep their undefeated league record intact when they entertain Rolling Meadows. The Knights hold a one-game edge over their nearest pursuers, Elk Grove and Forest View.

Elk Grove will visit Schaumburg as the Saxons search for their first league victory, and Conant, also looking for that first win, will host Forest View.

All games are scheduled to begin at approximately 8 p.m. following the sophomore preliminary contests.

Hawks return to jayvee play in fine fashion

Hoffman Estates young varsity team took its lumps in the recent Niles North Tournament, finishing on the short end of scores like 89-62, 74-48 and 70-51.

So Hawk players, fans and Coach Jerry Segebrecht must have really enjoyed Friday night's game with visiting Palatine. Returning to junior varsity play, the Hawks blew the Pirates off the court, 68-30.

All but one Hoffman player reached the scoring column as the team evened its jayvee record to 3-3 in the Mid-Suburban League. Joe Gajewski, a 5-foot-10 sharpshooter, led the Hawks with 13 points and eight rebounds.

Also hitting in double figures were Steve Currier and John Staback with 10 each and Jeff Curtin with nine. They're shooting lifted Hoffman to a 49 per cent field goal mark. Segebrecht said that might have been the first time his team had ever gone over 40.

Hoffman's offense helped hold Palatine to only 16 per cent. A fullcourt press also bothered the Pirates, forcing 54 turnovers.

"We're on our way, I hope," said Segebrecht. "We're optimistic."

The Hawks will receive two tests this week, taking on visiting Elk Grove tonight at 7:30 and playing at Buffalo Grove Friday at 6:30 p.m.

Meadows hockey entry stands 11-1-2

Rolling Meadows and St. Viator each won twice in the Northwest Division of the Chicago Metro High School Hockey League. This combined with Palatine's victory over Arlington Heights gives Rolling Meadows a four-point division lead and pulls red-hot St. Viator into a second place tie with Arlington.

In Sunday's action at Mount Prospect's Randhurst Twin Ice Arena, St. Viator rolled over Hersey 12-0 in the opener, their ninth straight game without a loss. Paul Wuerl and Billy Morrison shared the shutout.

Kevin Kosowski's hat trick paced the Lions scoring binge, with two goal help from Jack McLorraine and John O'Shaughnessy and solo scores by Pat Frazier, Rick Herdick, Matt Liebgott, John Gustafson and Pat Christensen.

Palatine, after losing to St. Viator 6-2 on Thursday to break a four game winning streak, bounced back to knock off Arlington 7-6 in a thriller.

After a scoreless first period, Arlington took a 2-0 lead on goals by Bill Pankeva, assisted by Jeff Gardner and Billy McGuire and John Walsh, assisted by the McGuire brothers.

The Pirate's Dan McSweeney, who scored a hat trick for the day, and Mike Mikulan tied it up, but Arlington took the lead back 3-2 on a Jim McGuire tally. Palatine scored three unanswered goals to lead 5-3 with Mark Langer, Bob Greenhill and McSweeney's second of the day.

Billy McGuire cut the lead to one early in the third period but Palatine's McSweeney got his third and Al Sundberg netted the eventual winner. Arlington's John Walsh and Jeff Gardner hit the net, the latter with 1:31 remaining but the Pirates held on for the win.

League-leading Rolling Meadows scored once in each period to down Driscoll 3-2. Driscoll scored two first period goals but couldn't find the net again.

The Mustang's Randy Voss first goal tied it at 1-1, assisted by Buddy Wright. Voss scored the only second period tally, iced the victory assisted by Mike Retzer and Voss.

Lake Forest's Mike Trees picked up a hat trick, Rick Villati scored twice and Mike Durot once as they downed cellar-dwelling Fremd 6-3. Fremd went up 2-0 on goals by Mitch Gullett and Mike Aquino and Scored another by Mike Lowceki, but trailed 4-3 in a wide open first period.

On Thursday, Rolling Meadows broke loose for nine big goals, beating Hersey 9-1. Two each by Billy Conway and Randy Voss, solos by Mike Retzer, Mike Shanley, Mike Weber, Paul VanStell and Tom Sweeney showed the balanced attack.

The lone Hersey goal, spoiling Meadows' goalie Fred Mock's shutout, came from Dennis Rogers. Hersey's goalie John Schultz was peppered with 55 shots on goal.

Viator overpowered Palatine 6-2 in Thursday's second game, though outshot 32-22 with Paul Wuerl displaying outstanding goal keeping for the Lions.

The Pirates held a 2-1 lead on two first period goals by Mark Langer but couldn't flash the light the rest of the way. Viator had scored first on a quick goal by Tom McDonald.

It was the Lions the rest of the way as Mike Rodell, Mark Gustafson, Len Jarocki, Bob Bettis and Kevin Kosowski rounded out a balanced scoring attack.

'Ready' Glenbrook North rocks Demons

by BOB RICHARDS

Monday morning quarterbacks will tell you how emotions play a key role in any sports contest. And they probably do. But what isn't told is how those emotions can be harnessed and controlled.

They also say being ready is the main ingredient for athletic success.

But if it's that easy, then why not just tell the players to be ready and be done with it?

Maine East's Paul McClelland will tell you it just doesn't work that way, especially after his team was rocked by Glenbrook North Friday in a Central Suburban League, North Division showdown at Maine East, 66-52.

"We just weren't ready to play tonight," McClelland said. "We just stunk up the place. I don't know if we were playing Tuesday (Maine East's first Tuesday game ever against Niles North) or what. We've beaten better teams and we've lost to worse. We just weren't playing hard."

The Demons were also weakened at the center spot where Neil Clark was nursing a sprained ankle and Derrick Brown was recovering from a virus.

McClelland's opposite number Dan Perry, coach of the Spartans also saw things other than points and rebounds as important in his team's win. "Mentally, we were ready," he said. "The more experience we get, the more confidence we get."

Glenbrook North held the Demons to a pair of field goals in the first period, taking a 13-6 lead which they never relinquished. The Spartans built on that lead in each period, gradually working it up to 66-46 before the reserves from Maine East closed the gap against Perry's reserves.

"I think we were really finding the open man," Perry said. "You have to be a team. It's been hard getting a group of individuals to jell."

All of the Spartans got into the scoring act on fast breaks and set plays. Football star Jack Moller led the way with 21 points and 11 rebounds followed by Clayton Lund who dumped in 20.

While the Maine East defensive pressure wasn't all that the Demon coach had hoped for, the offense sputtered as well. Maine East, shooting long jumpers from outside of the Glenbrook North zone, bagged only six of 27 shots in the first half for a 22 per cent mark.

Forest View brings 27-3 mark into bowling action

Forest View, led by a pair of 169s, shut out Elk Grove in bowling 9-0, at Hoffman Lanes.

Judy Pleickhardt and Linda Nikodem paced the Mid-Suburban Conference's top team, which now has a 27-3 mark. Sue Coll was Elk Grove's high shooter with a 209. It was just one of four 200 games fired on this hot-shooting night.

Mary Jo Lengua of Prospect was the top roller with a 223. Despite her efforts, the Knights lost to Arlington, 7-2. Arlington was led by Cathy Piontek's 183.

Second-place Rolling Meadows beat Palatine, 5-4, as Pat Costello was high for the Mustangs with a 211. Denise Parkhurst paced the Pirates with a 196.

Smothers Brothers play it too safe

NEW YORK — In an era of post-Watergate blues and a sleep-walking Ford administration, Americans desperately seem to need a satirical TV show that will shake them out of their despair.

Thus, the return of the Smothers Brothers Monday night on NBC might have been thought to be this type of program. Unfortunately, it isn't.

The new Smothers Brothers show is an example of 1960s television in its mediocrity. If the pace and level of humor on this series continues, the Smothers Brothers will be the Geritol twins of T.V.

TOM AND DICK Smothers were the bad boys of 1960s television. They defied CBS' censors and were taken off the air. And many people lamented the loss of their provocative and satirical comedy.

Admittedly, Tom, the one who shaves, and Dick, the one who misses his upper lip, have a lot to live up to. The last series, although never brilliant, was, at times, anti-establishment, off-color and irreverent. They were troublemakers in a spineless medium and were just right to poke fun at an imperious and lying administration of Lyndon B. Johnson.

Hopefully, the new show was to have been gutsy and brash. But it isn't. The first show in the new series was too safe, no controversy. Look at the guests: Redd

Television in review

by Frank S. Swertlow

Foxx, Alice Cooper, Johnny Carson and George Burns.

Any one of these guys could do a routine at a convention of the Daughters of the American Revolution and cause hardly a stir. Even Cooper, glitter rock's biggest sparkle, is now making the rounds on game shows.

The only skit in the 60-minute program that was vaguely reminiscent of the old show was "The Integrated Couple," featuring Redd Foxx as a black man celebrating his 25th anniversary with his white wife. But this type of humor is common on television today. It would have been an eyebrow raiser in 1967.

THE NEW SMOOTHERS Brothers might have been better if Richard Nixon was still in the White House. Nixon was an easy mark for satire and mimics. He was hateable.

But Gerald Ford is the President now, and his style is too drowsy. You just don't know what he stands for and a new style of comedy may be needed as he battles the recession, Middle East woes, and the disintegration of South Vietnam.

Tom and Dick Smothers may get their show perking in a few weeks, but this is an era of high-speed computers and fast returns in ratings. If the Smothers don't get moving, the decision to pull the show off the air may be made by the third program.

For the next 15 weeks, Monday nights on PBS will be filled with the art of "The Romantic Rebellion." The show, presented by WNET in New York, is hosted by British art historian Kenneth Clark.

The doctor says

by Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

Sting no arthritis cure

When I was a young girl I lived part of my life on a nice farm where we had a hundred scapes of bees. One summer it was my duty to watch where the bees went when they swarmed. I was stung very often. Older people would often see me when wearing a bee sting and would say it was too bad, but now, I would not suffer from rheumatism later in life.

Well, now I am 82, and it seems that the old saying may be true. I am curious to know if it is just a happy accident or if they really knew.

That is often said, but there is nothing to it. Fortunately not everyone gets arthritis and you are one of the lucky ones. You wouldn't have had it even if you had never seen a bee in

This wives' tale is dangerous since bee stings can be dangerous to some people. They can cause a violent shock-like reaction. These people need to be treated to decrease the danger of a severe reaction to an unexpected sting by a bee or wasp.

I agree thoroughly with keeping one's weight down to normal by watching cholesterol, fats, and sugar, plus proper exercise. Two glasses of fortified skim milk per day is a must.

Some of my friends tell me they use nonfat dry milk. When mixed and placed in the refrigerator overnight it tastes all right. It is much less expensive than fortified skim milk. We all know the prohibitive rise in food costs daily. Is this dried milk just as good and will it do the same for you as the more costly skim milk? I cannot see where the word skim is used on the box.

The dry nonfat milk powder is an excellent food. I recommend its use in low-fat, low-cholesterol food preparation because it is a good source of high quality protein and calcium.

You can increase the amount you use in recipes for desserts, sauces and even in making homemade bread. That increases the calcium and protein in the diet without increasing the fat intake.

Look on the top and bottom on the box. The Carnation brand, for example, says nonfat dry milk on the top and bottom but not the sides. It is as good in every way as the fortified skim milk you buy and is a lot cheaper.

There is an improvement by letting it stand mixed overnight in the refrigerator. Don't ask me why. Adding a little bit of salt also helps enormously. (I don't recommend this for patients who must watch their salt intake.) I have often wondered if, in the processing, some salt was lost that affected the flavor.

CHERYL LAVIN, owner of the mushroom farm, inspects batches of the crop, harvested almost daily and taken to market in Chicago.

WORKERS IN THE Lake County Mushroom Farm near Palatine are required to tend the crops in four separate houses on racks stacked to the ceiling. About 1,000 mushrooms are harvested each day, and many of them are sold outright at the farm.

Business is mushrooming!

One thing there is no shortage of these days, at least at the Lake County Mushroom Farm near Palatine, is mushrooms.

The farm harvests 100 to 1,000 pounds of mushrooms daily and about 150,000 pounds of mushrooms each year. The mushrooms are sold year 'round at the farm for 90 cents to $1.20 a pound, or are sold to grocery and restaurant owners at the South Water Market Street produce market in Chicago.

The mushrooms are grown in the dark at cool temperatures in 32,000 square feet of indoor growing space at the farm located on Old Ill. Rte. 53, one mile north of Rand Road.

Brian and Cheryl Lavin, owners of the farm, said they are selling mushrooms one foot wide and weighing 1 1/4 pounds "that customers were stuffing and eating like pies."

THE MUSHROOMS, cream in color, are a strain traditionally grown throughout the nation for use in dishes that include stuffed mushroom caps, salads, fondues and casseroles. The workers wear lighted caps to tend to the mushrooms during the three months it takes them to develop.

Watch South go to work

Four spades by North would be an ironclad contract, but North and South were not using transfer bids and South wound up as the spade declarer.

West opened the 10 of hearts. South could have insured his contract by playing dummy's king but instead played small. East played the deuce of hearts, whereupon West shifted to the 10 of clubs. Dummy's jack lost to East's king. East cashed the ace of hearts and then made the mistake of leading a trump. "Chucked and possibly rechunked," murmured South. "I should have put up the king of hearts at trick one." Then South won the spade; ruffed his last heart and ran off all his trumps. The last trump lead squeezed West. He had to discard a club to retain his ace of diamonds. Now South discarded the last diamond from dummy and made the last three tricks with dummy's ace-queen and six of clubs.

Win at bridge
